

Environmental policy

When you choose products from Kasthall you are taking active responsibility for the environment. Environmental responsibility is an important aspect of the high quality that signifies the Kasthall brand. It strongly influences our production methods and the company's future development. In our day-to-day work it means that we make continuous improvements that benefit the environment, from creating a healthy workplace to helping preserve the beauty of nature. Our environmental policy is your guarantee of this.

- We work to maintain our ISO 14001 certification.
- We follow the relevant laws and other environmental requirements.
- We minimize waste.
- We carry out environmental assessments of investments and production methods before implementing them.
- We give preference to suppliers who show consideration for the environment.
- We choose raw materials and packaging that are considered to have the least impact on the environment.
- We keep employees, suppliers and customers informed about our environmental policy and efforts.
